

BEREAVEMENT POLICY SUMMARY GUIDE

By creating a clear and robust policy, the school can provide a framework for school staff members to address death and the consequences of death. A school policy will enable staff members to feel more confident when working with bereaved students and they will be able to support them more efficiently. Such a policy will also include concise guidelines for those staff members supporting a bereaved child or young person and help support staff to deal with a sensitive and often difficult subject.

A bereavement policy should be a working document, which will enable a school to:

- Consider the impact of a death within the school
- Use expertise and share responsibilities
- Make appropriate plans, produce guidelines and draft letters
- Collect resources for support
- Prepare staff and organise any training
- Create a bereavement-aware culture within the community
